Our Spiritual Advisor

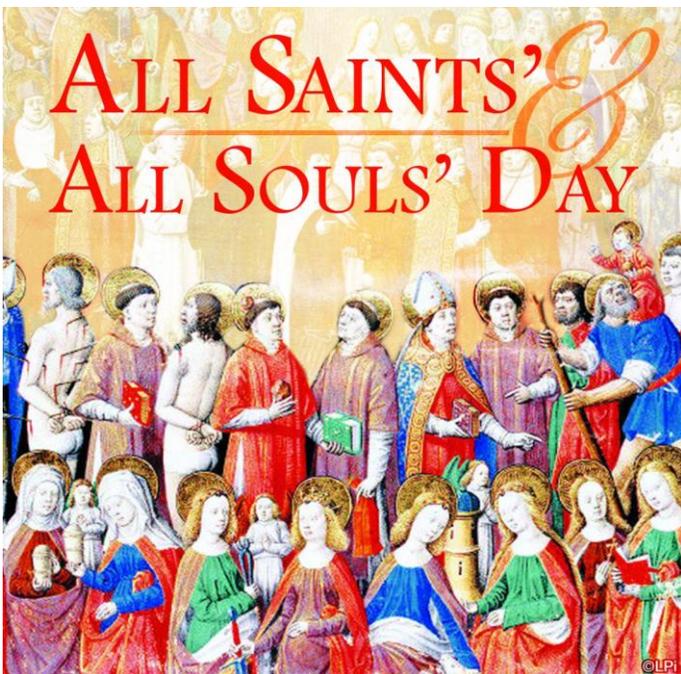

We begin a great month of celebrating the Lord's gifts to us and sharing our faith to grow ourselves better and help our families and friends and workmates also grow themselves. We start with the celebration of All Saints and can share the precious stories of our favorite saints like our first name and Confirmation choice and the happenings and occasions in our lives that have brought a saint or several into our ways of life.

I may have shared this before, but I love sharing the story of my connection with St. Anthony the Patron of lost articles. I've needed him quite a few times in my life and learned the value of the friendship with him from my dad with whom I worked a lot in the summers of my youth. My dad was a marble contractor – installing marble sills for windows, and hearths and mantels for fireplaces in homes AND altars and communion rails in quite a few churches around Toledo (including Michigan) and other places in Ohio. Dad shared with me that St. Anthony is a great help in finding things that get lost. The older I'm getting, the more I need to pray to St. Anthony, and it is absolutely amazing how often that prayer works! My sense is that it's working 100% right now. I catch myself chuckling and smiling and thanking God for faith!!!

My first name is Edward, middle is John, and I chose Joseph as my Confirmation Saint because I had a brother born right after me whom my parents named Joseph and he died of leukemia while still very young. I wanted to honor him (and them) by choosing Joseph as my Confirmation name and I'm still very happy with that move because I see St. Joseph, spouse of Mary the Mother of Jesus as a tremendous helper to make "family" so important a part of our human condition designed by God to save the world...

This is pretty long already, and I've only mentioned two of my favorite saints. All Souls' Day and Thanksgiving are important too – to remember those who have already died and are very hopefully in heaven as we pray for them (part of our LARGE family, right?); and the holiday of Thanksgiving celebrates the first coming together of pilgrims and native Americans in the New World in 1621. That's a good sign of our ancestors praising God and forming a nation doing it! Faith is a bedrock to keep building on, eh? Have a great November and share your stories.....!

Lay Director

(Each month, one of our Lay Directors will write an article.)

Fall is finally here! The skies are grey, the wind is chilly, and we're starting to think about what coat is needed today, light or heavy?? Our reluctance to rejoice in the changes in temperature is tempered by the beautiful leaves both on the trees and falling to the ground like gentle rain. November, for our diocese, also indicates that the next Cursillos will be held in 2024. (Those dates are March 7-10 (Men's), April 11-14 (Women's), September 12-15 (Men's) and October 17-20 (Women's). What have we learned in 2023? How have we grown?

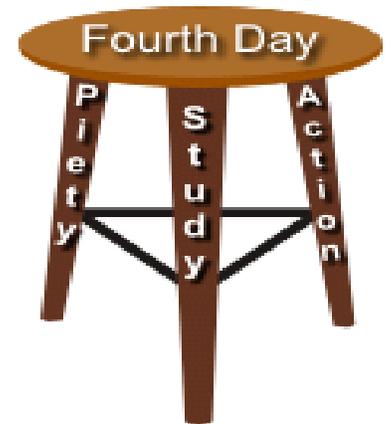

I have continued to learn that this movement is so precious to me with its mighty weekends and grouping/Ultreya methods to keep us connected to Our Lord and each other is a powerful force for good. How are grouping and Ultreyas calling me to a deeper relationship with Jesus, and transforming my environments to be more Christ-like?

For some of us for whom Cursillo has been a part of our lives for years, it can be easy sometimes to gloss over what the service sheet mentions. For Piety, it's not supposed to be a laundry list to share what I've done this past week (4 morning offerings, 7 rosaries, 1 visit to the Blessed Sacrament, etc.), but opportunities to share with those in our group about how one or more of those acts brought me closer to God. (For example, while visiting the Blessed Sacrament, I felt God encouraging me to ask a particular person to be a sponsor for someone who I hope will attend a Cursillo next year. (And then the person I asked agreed to be the sponsor!!)

With Study, a suggestion would be to share something that you read or heard or observed that stretched or enlightened what you know of God. For me, I attend an Adult Faith Formation class on Sundays after Mass. We are currently studying the book of Mark using a video series. The presenter explained how Jesus as our King isn't like the kings of Israel's past. I knew that in 1 Samuel 8, the Israelites asked for a king, and Samuel explained how a king would reign over them, taking their sons and daughters and crops and how they would be the king's slaves. The Israelites still wanted a king, so Saul was anointed king. Jesus is not a king like that. He instead gives himself to us as a gift. Wow! Of course, I know that Jesus is our king, but didn't really understand how He transformed the title of King. Old Testament kings take; Jesus gives. What a lesson!

The third leg of the stool, Action, calls us to look at our environments closely, putting on the mind of God. What am I doing in my family, workplace, parish, everywhere I go to make those environments more Christ-like? What is going well? What struggles in an environment do I have right now that I need some extra prayer and support?

Thanksgiving will soon be upon us. I am so thankful for the Cursillo movement. What can we do to help this movement to grow, to continue to be a method for positive change? Being on a team is a powerful way to do that. Pray about filling out a team application and sending it to our Cursillo chairpersons, being an agent for change to help others to love God and neighbors more fully, more enthusiastically, more unselfishly.

Greetings to all.

What a glorious fall season! Women's Cursillo 292 was an uplifting experience for all. Thank you to all who attended the Holy Hour and Closing. What a great way to welcome the new Cursillistas into the family. A special thank you to all the witnesses, Deacon, Priest, and musicians who helped with the celebration. A reminder to all sponsors and new Cursillistas to attend Ultreyas and group with those in your areas. This is the best way to keep the Spirit alive and growing within you. Prayers and Blessings to all of you! Becky Smeltz, Bill and Betty Obringer

4th Day
Living in a world
after the resurrection

Next area 7 and 10 Ultreya is Nov. 26 at Tiffin St. Joseph Activity Center in the Upper Room at 7pm.

Area 8 Ultreya is Monday, November 13 @ St. Joseph, Galion in the activity Center 7-9.

All are welcome

Please pray, fast, say rosaries, do “palanca” etc. for the Cursillistas and teams as they ready for their events.

November is called the “month of remembrance” because traditionally we, as Catholics, remember all those who have died and commemorate them on All Saints Day and All Souls Day. Then we go further into the month as we end our liturgical year and begin the season of Advent. We take this time to think of the end of life and the great hope of God’s heavenly kingdom to come.

But let us not forget the lives that are present today as we pray for our brothers and sisters who will be sharing in Cursillos this month from around the world. There are 27 listed thus far for November. Let us “remember” them in our prayers and offer palanca up for them all. And a Happy Thanksgiving to you all- I am thankful for our God who loves us.

Many Blessings. Jan Stainbrook, Palanca
